How we can help

Here at Inova, we will help you identify a study programme that meets your personal, academic or professional needs, provide you with advice, help and support from your university application to your visa application and everything in between.

University Applications

When it comes to the university application and admissions process, we've got you covered. Because of our knowledge of international study and relationships with Universities all over the UK and the Netherlands, our students are 4x more likely to get a place on the course they want.

We will:

- Help you choose the courses and universities that are right for you.
- Help you prepare and submit your application documents to make sure they fit the requirements.
- Work with you to make sure your covering documents (like references and personal statements) are the best they can be.
- Bring you into contact with accredited translators.
- Submit your applications and manage any follow-up communication.
- Give you guidance on any English exams you may be required to take.

and loans to private funding, we'll make sure you have all the information you need to finance your future.

Working with our team of experts, we'll work out if you fit the criteria for any full or partial scholarships, whether you're eligible for any loans and bursaries, and how much you may need to fund privately. We'll then guide you through the entire funding application process from start to finish.

Study Visas

We're the only company in Latin America with a 100% success rate for student visa applications, giving you the best possible chance of studying abroad.

All students planning to study in the UK or the Netherlands need to apply for a study visa, but it doesn't have to be stressful.

Apply through us and you'll be assigned a dedicated visa support expert who will provide help and guidance throughout the entire process and make sure your application meets the immigration requirements. If you are unsure of which direction to take, you'll be able to continue to benefit from our guidance and support right up to enrolment.

Scholarships & Loans

There are various ways to fund your studies. From scholarships

Training and Career Coaching

We empower students with comprehensive training courses and career coaching services. Our expert team of trainers and coaches are committed to unlocking your full potential, equipping you with valuable skills, and helping you make informed decisions about your future.

Why study in the United Kingdom and the Netherlands?

Academic Excellence

- They're home to some of the world's most well-respected and highly-regarded Universities.
- Their high academic standards are maintained and regulated through continuous assessment and monitoring of research and teaching quality.
- Their universities create a strong culture of support and advice for international students throughout.

Better Career Prospects

- Their qualifications are recognised and highly valued by employers around the world.
- Their teaching and learning styles encourage independent thought and creativity.
- They will allow you to improve your English—a world business language.

An International Experience

- Learn from the many diverse cultures and perspectives and expand your worldview.

- Benefit from international networking opportunities with peers and professionals from around the world.
- Enhance your English language proficiency and communication skills.
- Learn to adapt and gain independence, as you navigate through new environments and learn to overcome challenges.

Value for Money

- Most courses offered are shorter than similar courses offered in other countries such as the USA, Canada and Australia. (Undergraduate courses usually last 3 or 4 years and Master's generally only last 1 year.)
- This makes living expenses a lot lower. Combine this with the excellent academic standards, and you're getting great value for money.

Study Programmes

We support applying for international study at various level of higher education, offering access to over 3,000 foundation and undergraduate and over 4,500 postgraduate courses. There's a course for everyone, with a huge range of choices across the Arts, Sciences, Engineering and Business.

Foundation Programmes

Frequently Asked Questions

Here we'll answer a few questions often asked by students, but if you're still unsure, please get in touch. Our team will be happy to answer any questions you might have.

When are the application deadlines?

Applying for a university course should be done as early as possible to ensure a smooth and successful application process. You can start the university application process for Master's and PhD programmes up to one year before your study programme starts. Although it is possible to start the process a bit later most students need several months up to a year to meet all the entry requirements so we advise you to start the process early.

Universities and courses often have varying application deadlines and those in the Netherlands tend to be earlier than in the UK. Undergraduate students also have to adhere to strict application deadlines.

Working with an Inova Study Advisor will ensure you stay on top of the timescales and deadlines by providing personalized guidance and timely reminders. This will help you effectively manage your application process and be prepared for crucial milestones.

I haven't got my final results yet. Can I still apply?

You can apply for a study place even if you're still awaiting your final exam results or still have to take an English language exam. Universities in the UK, Ireland and the Netherlands can make conditional offers, allowing you to secure a place while you work towards meeting the entry requirements.

What level of English do I need to apply?

To study in the UK and the Netherlands you need to be able to read, write and speak English very well. You'll need to prove your competency by taking a recognised and approved English language test such as the Cambridge Advanced, Cambridge Proficiency, IELTS Academic, TOEFL iBT or Pearson PTE.

How much will it cost to study?

Tuition fees for undergraduate or postgraduate courses vary and can be anything from £14,000 to £35,000, not including potential discounts and scholarships. You'll also need around £9,000 to £12,000 each year to cover your living costs, depending on where you live.

To get a UK study visa, you'll need to be able to prove you have sufficient funds to pay your tuition fees and support yourself in your first year of studies. We will help you apply for any scholarships, bursaries and loans you may be eligible for.

Can my family come with me?

If you're studying for more than six months you can only bring your dependants in special circumstances provided you obtain a visa for your partner and/or children. If you intend to bring your family with you, let us know as soon as possible as your applications may take a little longer.

How do I find somewhere to live?

Most universities we work with provide accommodation for international students and will automatically guarantee somewhere to live. We will work with you to help you find a room that suits your budget and requirements.

Can I work during my studies?

As long as your course lasts for longer than six months and is an undergraduate or postgraduate course, you are allowed to work up to 16 hours per week in the Netherlands and 20 hours per week in the UK during term time and full-time during vacations. Most universities recommend working for no more than 12 hours a week.

Students that successfully complete their undergraduate or postgraduate studies are, under current immigration rules, also entitled to apply for a work visa of 1 year in the Netherlands and 2 years in the UK.

Do you have access to scholarships?

As part of our student counseling we will introduce you to any potential funding options available for your particular country, including information about study loans and/or scholarships. For up-to-date information and an overview of finance options please visit our website.
